DAYLIGHT SAVING?

The question of Daylight Saving time in Bethel will be decided in the next 10 days. If past years' experience are any guide, it will take the town, or village, a week to settle again. As it stands at present without doubt the mills will change, and the schools will conform to the mills' time.

The generally accepted date for the change is April 24. Many local people seem to favor the change, and others would change but at another date. We hope to be able to tell definitely next week what the decision will be.

MAPLE INN PROPERTY PURCHASED BY MR. AND MRS. RAY LISHERNESS

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lisherness, who have been in town the past winter at the home of Mrs. O. M. Mason, have purchased Maple Inn on lower Main street and will open the place to the public on June 1st. They plan to keep the house open the year round, which will be much appreciated by the traveling public.

This place was first opened as a hotel in 1912 by W. W. Kilgore of North Newry who was soon forced to build an addition much larger than the original structure. The place was afterwards bought by Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Donahue of Berlin, and since the death of Mrs. Donahue several years ago, Mr. Donahue has kept the hotel open only during the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Lisherness were engaged in business for some time at Stratton and for five years owned and managed summer camps at Embden Lake, North Anson. For the past four years Mr. Lisherness has been traveling for the Mason Mfg. Co. of South Paris and during that time Mr. Lisherness conducted a Tourist Home at that place.

WALTER GRIFFIN

Walter Griffin, 26 years old, passed away at his home in Pontiac, Mich., Friday, April 8, of pneumonia. The remains were brought to Gile, by his wife, Mrs. Christine Griffin, accompanied by two brothers, Ellis from the Pontiac lodge. On arriving Monday at 4 p. m. the sad party was met by a number of brother Elks from the Berlin, N. H. lodge and the flag covered coffin was moved to the home of his father and sister by Greenleaf funeral coach.

Mr. Griffin was born in Portland, educated in the grammar school and graduated from Cummings College. He entered the services of the Grand Trunk railway as brakeman, and after seven years moved to Pontiac, Mich., to enter the employ of the Grand Trunk Western, where he worked until he contracted his fatal illness.

The funeral was held at Gile Tuesday and on account of the inclement weather the remains were placed in the vault at Bethel to be buried in Pine Cemetery here later.

The beautiful display of wreaths, pillows, and sprays was evidence of the standing of the departed young man in this vicinity. The sympathy of the community is extended to the wife, father, brother, and relatives.

PARTRIDGE NOT A CANDIDATE

Representative Donald B. Partridge formerly announces that he is not a candidate for re-election or re-nomination. Mr. Partridge now represents the Second Maine District. By the redistricting of the state into three districts instead of four, Oxford County is thrown into the First District with Cumberland, the home of Representative Carroll R. Beedy.

Mr. Partridge's statement regarding the matter is as follows:

"For months I have been receiving requests and offers of support from all sections of the new First Congressional district asking me to be a candidate for Representative to Congress upon the Republican ticket in the coming primary election.

"I deeply appreciate the confidence expressed in me and the support which has been tendered, and in fairness to these loyal friends and in order that there may be no misunderstanding, I feel the time has now arrived when I should make my position absolutely clear.

"This country is passing through one of the most troublesome times in our history. The voters of the present Second District have honored me in selecting me to represent them in this 72nd Congress. The task demands all of my energy and thought. I cannot at this time efficiently represent my district, do my duty to my country, and at the same time carry on a political campaign. I propose to remain on my present job and complete it to the best of my ability, regardless of any political future and therefore decline to be a candidate.

"Again to my many friends who have offered their support and assistance I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation."

CHAPMAN CONDUCTS RUBINSTEIN CLUB CONCERT

The Rubinstein Club of New York, Mrs. William R. Chapman, President, gave its closing concert for the season of 1932, on Tuesday evening, April 5th, in the Ball-room of the Waldorf-Astoria, with its usual brilliant audience. Many of the outstanding musical celebrities were present. The following artists, Miss Winifred Cecil, Dramatic Soprano, Mr. Walter Mills, Baritone, and Miss Lucille Potter, Soprano, together with the fine orchestra which Dr. Chapman has organized this season for his concerts, with the Rubinstein Choral, made a programme of much variety and pleasure. Miss Winifred Cecil possesses a soprano voice of great possibilities. She is a pupil of Mme. Sembrich, and her singing was most dramatic in her aria, "Pace, Pace," by Verdi, while her group of songs were most delightfully rendered. Walter Mills, the favorite Baritone, was received with great favor, and his numbers were most artistically rendered. Among his encores he sang "Dover in Maine," with the Composer, Dr. Chapman, at the Piano. One of the brightest spots on the programme, was the new Aerophone Song, "FLYING THROUGH THE AIR," composed by Dr. Chapman, the words by Mrs. Chapman, and sung for the first time with Chorus and Orchestra, Miss Lucille Potter, singing the incidental solo. This is one of Dr. Chapman's most brilliant compositions, and should prove to be very popular. It was received with great enthusiasm, and a repetition demanded. Miss Lucille Potter, a resident of Portland, Maine, and a pupil of the celebrated vocal teacher of New York, Miss Estelle Lieblich, sang with great brilliancy. The Choral numbers by Grieg, English Folk Song, Holst, Mana-Zucca, and Arthur Sullivan, were well rendered. The orchestra selections by Weber, Grieg, Rimsky-Korsakow, Saint-Saens, and Dvorak, were played with great brilliancy and excellent tone. Dr. Chapman's interpretation of these numbers were most interesting, and many encores were requested from Orchestra and Choral. Dr. Chapman received a great ovation, and was presented with a magnificent wreath at the close of the concert, also Mrs. Chapman a large bouquet of beautiful American Beauty Roses. New York Telegram.

TWO-MINUTE SERMON

by REV. GEORGE HENRY

GOD AND CAESAR

"Render unto God the things that are God's and unto Caesar, the things that are Caesar's." Thus spake the Christ. It is not enough to worship God, to sing hymns of praise, to engage in prayer, to reverently study the sacred page. These things should be done, as being done, and will continue to be done, of course, by all who are Christians, but there are other things of equal importance. Loyalty and good citizenship, our duty to our fellows, are of equal importance, because the Christ thus associated the two, an acceptable service can not be rendered God unless the other service likewise be performed. In this text is found the reason why Christianity blessed the world as has no other religion. Here we find the secret of its perpetuity. Here is the germ idea that is destined to develop until the religion of Jesus Christ shall supersede all other religions and all men shall know the Lord from the least even unto the greatest and from the river unto the ends of the earth.

SOIL TESTING SERVICE FOR EACH COMMUNITY

Each community now has a farmer supplied with a soil testing outfit to enable other farmers in the community to get samples of soil tested with the least possible time and expense according to County Agent, D. H. Hildley.

These men, a list which is given below, are supplied with information concerning the sources of lime in the various forms and prices of lime at these different sources. There is no charge for the service, it simply being necessary for persons to get their soil samples and take them to the point where it will be tested. In this way it will be possible for farmers and others to more nearly determine the kind and amount of lime needed for their particular fields or gardens.

Where local facilities for handling lime are not available or where the kind of lime desired is not handled, attempts will be made to assemble sufficient orders for lime to purchase on the carlot price.

In most sections at present, corn factories are recommending applications of lime, emphasizing materials with a magnesium content. It is also known that most vegetable crops are benefited by generous applications of lime when soils are acid. All legumes are known to benefit from liming where soil is acid. Loam or clay soils require higher applications of lime than do sandy ones.

Following is the list of men in the different communities who will carry the soil testing service:

Andover—Frank Langevin.
Bethel—L. Cary Stevens.
Brownfield—Harry Durgin.
Buckfield—Wendall Dunn.

FEEDING THE DAIRY COW IN 1932

by P. A. Campbell,
Eastern States Farmers' Exchange
Springfield, Massachusetts

Milk, the price that the producer receives for it, and the future outlook for dairying are thoughts that are in the minds of New England dairymen. The price and what to do with it are marketing problems. The future hinges, at least to a certain extent, on economical production. Unless the dairyman can regulate his production costs so that the milk can be sold in competition with milk of other producers from other sections he stands but little chance in the dairy business. If the time ever comes that dairying leaves the New England farms, it will not only affect New England agriculture but every business and industry in New England.

The business of dairying is converting the products of the land into a finished product. The tillable land and pastures furnish the raw product of grass, hay, silage and small quantities of grain. The purchased grain rations are the supplementary part of the cow's total ration and if rightly used balance the food nutrients of the home-grown feeds and enable the cows to pay a greater return for these same home grown feeds.

Good pasture helps to reduce the cost of milk production. Pastures properly fertilized not only increase the amount of pasture, but improve the quality of the grass by raising the percentage of protein. Consequently, attention given to the pasture reduces the amount of supplemental grain that is necessary as well as allowing the use of a lower protein level.

Good quality roughage such as early-cut hay from well-fertilized fields, hay with clover or other legumes mixed in, tend to reduce the amount of supplemental feed.

More about feeding the cow next week if you want it. This is your department. We want you to tell us what interests you.

Fifty orchardists in 10 Maine counties planted 15,478 trees in 1931, yet the number of apple trees in Maine is decreasing. The commercial production of apples is also declining.

WALKING PLOWS DIFFICULT TO ADJUST, SPECIALIST SAYS

"Fighting plow handles to keep a badly adjusted plow in place is about as satisfactory as driving a car with a flat front tire," says Clesson N. Turner, agricultural engineer for the Extension Service, who states that the plow, although normally considered the most simple farm tool, is the most difficult to adjust properly.

A plow properly equipped and adjusted will not only do better work but will stay in the ground better, draw with less draft, and hold easier than a plow not properly equipped and adjusted. The hitch should be so adjusted that the plow runs easily and gives a furrow of the correct width.

He continues: "To make a plow run even it is important that the vertical hitch clevis be correctly adjusted. The higher this hitch is on the plow, the more effective the point will be in drawing the plow into the ground, but the plow will be more unstable. That is, it may jump or pitch, or as we say, 'it rides on its nose'."

"The beam wheel that squeaks," he says, is not necessarily calling for more grease. It is saying as politely as possible, 'please lower the hitch.' The beam wheel that presses firmly on the ground indicates that the hitch is too high."

Following are seven points suggested by Mr. Turner which will assist in making the two horse walking plow work easier.

First, raise the beam wheel to the beam, in order to get it out of the way until the vertical hitch clevis is adjusted.

Second, adjust the vertical clevis up or down until the plow runs at the desired depth.

Third, drop the beam wheel and fasten it so that it rides along easily on the ground. Do not use this wheel for adjusting the depth of furrow.

Fourth, adjust the horizontal hitch clevis until the plow runs level without tipping. Do not use this clevis for adjusting the width of furrow.

Fifth, change the eveners or spread of the team to obtain the desired width of furrow.

Sixth, adjust the jointer until it leaves a clean furrow wall. This should be about two and one half inches deep and one half inch into the land.

Seventh, test the plow. If it has been properly adjusted, it should run several rods without holding the handles, providing the beam isn't sprung.

PEST CONTROL FOR THE FLOWER GARDEN

by G. W. Simpson,
Assistant Entomologist,
Maine Experiment Station

Probably no plant is entirely free from attack by insect pests. Certainly the plants that are commonly raised in the flower gardens of Maine are no exceptions. Some insects do more damage than others. It may be worth while to attempt to control those which cause most damage. Before proper control measures can be taken it is very essential that one realizes that there are, in general, two very distinct types of insect pests. The methods of control for one type are not suitable for the other.

The two types of pests are distinguished by the way in which they feed. Certain pests actually chew the plant tissue and eat it as such. Among these pests are found various beetles, grasshoppers, caterpillars and worms. These pests may be readily controlled by spraying or dusting the plants with stomach poisons such as lead or calcium arsenate. The pests will eat enough of the poison to kill them in short order. The other type of pest is that in which the juices of the plant are sucked out by the insect, often without showing much immediate injury to the plant. However, these pests frequently do the plant more damage in the long run than the other type since they cause a serious drain on the plant's supply of moisture. This may be more serious in dry years. Among these pests are found the plant lice (aphids), plant bugs, leaf hoppers, tree hoppers, spittle insects, and the like. They may be controlled readily enough but in a manner very different from that mentioned above. Since these pests obtain their food within the tissue of the plant it is obvious that a poison placed on the outside of the plant will have no effect on these insects. Rather, one must make use of an insecticide that will either corrode the body of the pest or else suffocate it. For these pests, then, one uses a spray or dust containing nicotine or one of the plant alkaloids such as pyrethrum. When applied in such a way as to reach the insects individually these materials are effective. If one has troubles with insects in one's flower garden, the first thing to do is to determine to which type of pest the injury may be attributed and then, if the injury is sufficiently severe, to make use of materials designed to combat the pest in question. Farmers' Bulletin, number 1495, which may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents in Washington gives complete information on the control of the common pests of the flower garden.

What are you going to do in your flower garden and why? Have you some novel or interesting arrangements in view? Tell us about them. There is nothing of more beauty than a cleverly arranged flower garden. All our readers will appreciate your tips. We need them for this dept.

WHY

Electric Current Makes Way Along Wire

How does a current of electricity flow along a wire?

The answer to this question which has long baffled scientists, has been given after nine years of intensive work by Prof. John McEwen, director of the physics laboratory of the University of Toronto.

It is predicted the Professor McEwen's discovery will lead to the making of wire, which are perfect conductors of electricity, as those used at present are not perfect and big losses of energy take place in them.

The following explanation is given of the reasons why electricity flows along a wire.

An electric current consists of a stream of electrons, particles of electricity so tiny that billions of them could find ample room upon the point of the sharpest needle.

When an electron enters a wire it charges into an atom, drives out one of its electrons, and makes the latter free. The expelled electron jostles another atom in the same way, with the result that when one electron enters a wire one electron, but not the same one, goes out at the other end.

HOW

Why Cinnabar Deposits Are Lost to the World

Zulu superstition holds that the secret of the location in Natal of rich deposits of cinnabar, the ore from which mercury is extracted. The earth has a brilliant red color. Ernest King, well-known prospector, heard a legend that it was once used exclusively by the wives of one of the Zulu kings, a color their hair. After a time their hair all fell out, due to action of the mercury, and the unused cinnabar was placed and the hole filled in and the secret given that no one was to touch again. King discovered that the secret of the location was kept by the woman in the district who refused to tell and warned him that serious consequences would follow if he told.

WHY

Why Laker Are Salt

Why should an inland lake be salt? Great Salt Lake in Utah is the one we are most about. A salt lake has no outlet. It must be large enough so that the constant evaporation of water equals the amount which constantly seeps into it from small streams and rains. This water brings with it common salts from the rocks it flows through. Salt does not evaporate with the water and the older the enclosed lake the more salt it possesses. The sea and our own Great Salt Lake contain so much salt that no fish can live in them.

WHY

Why Stilts Were Evolved

Stilts were originally designed for use in crossing rivers and marshes. As a means of amusement stilts have been used by all peoples in all ages, as well as by the inhabitants of marshy or flooded districts. The city of Namur, in Belgium, which formerly suffered from the overflowing of the River Sambre and Meuse, has been celebrated for its stilt-walkers for many centuries. Not only the townspeople, but also the soldiers used stilts. The home of stilt-walking at the present day is the department of Landes, in Gascony, where, owing to the impermeability of the subsoil, all low-lying districts are converted to marshes.

WHY

How Patents Are Issued

Patents are issued in the United States to any person who has invented or discovered any new and useful art, machine, manufacture or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, not known or used by others in this country before his invention or discovery thereof, or not patented or described in any printed publication in this or any foreign country before his invention or discovery thereof, or more than two years prior to his application, and not in public use or on sale in this country for more than two years prior to his application for patent.

WHY

How to Drill Glass

A common steel drill, well tempered, or a piece of steel wire heated to a dull red and then quenched in metal mercury, makes a good tool for drilling glass. Make a solution of 1 oz. camphor, 1 1/2 oz. turpentine and 3 dr. of ether, and keep the end of the drilling tool wet with this. Hydrofluoric acid is the acid used for etching or eating away glass.

WHY

How Bees Help Clover

As the humble bees are busy darting from one clover head to another in search of nectar they are no doubt entirely unaware of the service they are rendering to the plants by carrying bits of pollen on their hairy legs from one plant to another. It is said that if it were not for the humble bees the red clover would die out entirely for want of fertilization.

WHY

How to Write on Celluloid

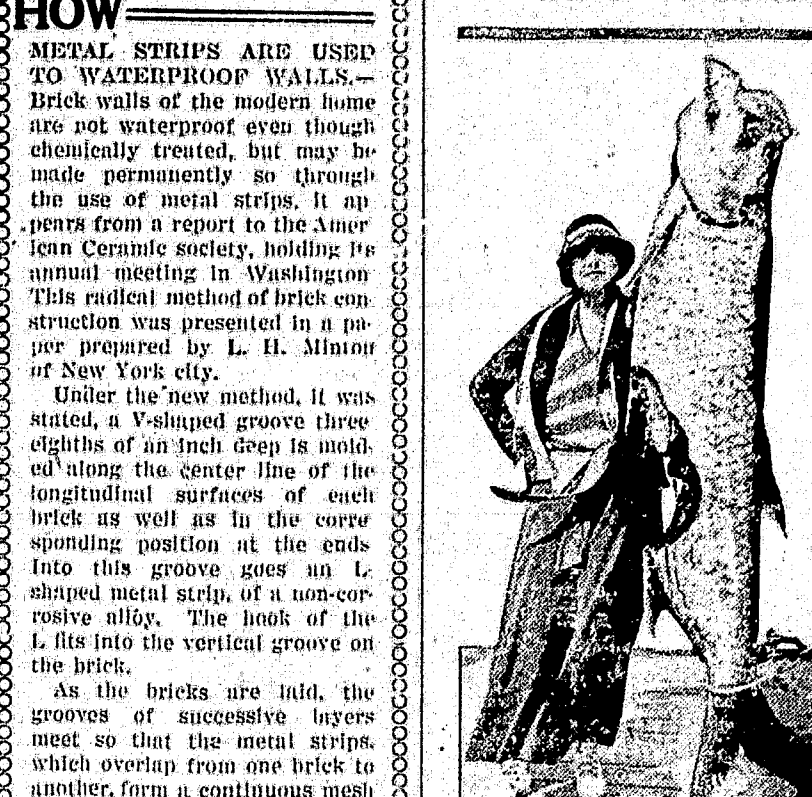

When it is desired to write on celluloid articles, such as draftsman's triangles, it can be done by dipping the pen in acetic acid and using it as ink. A Popular Mechanics Magazine, writing down with this acid ink, when dry, have a dull appearance on the surface of the celluloid.

WHY

How Nitroglycerin Burns

Nitroglycerin burns quietly in the open air, but is exploded by percussion or by heating in a closed vessel. It produces by detonation about 10,000 times its own volume of gas.

AUTHOR'S BIG CATCH

Mary Roberts Blenheim with a tarpon weighing 125 pounds which she landed after a shark had taken a bite out of it just as the noted author was bringing it in.

When Worlds Were Born

Where do meteors and shooting stars come from? Astronomers believe that millions of years ago, when the sun's family of worlds was born, there was a great planet revolving between Mars and Jupiter. For some unknown reason this planet exploded, giving birth itself to a vast family of tiny planets of which over a thousand are known. It is of the smaller fragments that the meteors are formed. Shooting stars are believed to be a kind of celestial smithies resulting from the destruction of comets. In certain cases comets themselves have failed to put in an appearance when they were due to return, but great showers of shooting stars have occurred instead.

The TIRE That Taught THRIFT To MILLIONS

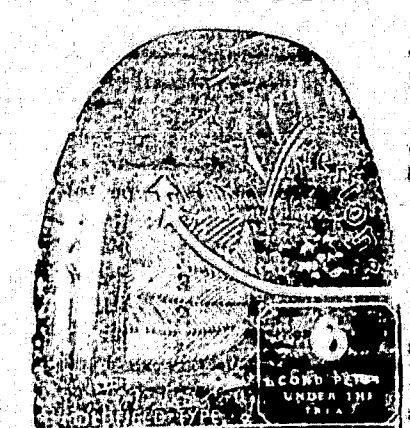

FIRESTONE tires appeal to the thrifty. They give Extra Values at the lowest prices ever known.

Firestone do not manufacture tires under special brand names for mail order houses and others to distribute. Special brand tires are made without the manufacturer's name. They are sold without his guarantee or responsibility for service. You take no chances on Firestone tires. They are silent, safe, long-wearing—and each tire bears the Firestone name, which is a guarantee of satisfactory service.

Firestone's greatest economies in buying, manufacturing, and distributing make possible these greater values and lower prices.

Stop at our store today. See sections cut from Firestone tires—special brand mail order tires and others. Take these sections in your own hands—compare Quality and Construction. Then you, too, will know why—“Firestone is the tire that taught thrift to millions!”

EXTRA VALUES

GUM-DIPPED CORDS
The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process transforms the cotton cords into a strong, tough, sinewy unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer tire life.

TWO EXTRA CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD
This is a patented construction and the two extra cord plies are so placed that you get 50% stronger bond between tread and cord body and tests show 25% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

NON-SKID TREAD
Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid tread gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.
